Using the MailWonder E-mail Toolbar

This toolbar reference guide describes the commands on the e-mail toolbar (see Figure 1) of the MailWonder application used by the Surfin' Seniors Program at Shady Pines Retirement Home. It will help you use the MailWonder application by reminding you what the toolbar buttons are, what they do, and how to use them. Using the e-mail toolbar helps you stay connected with loved ones by making it easier to send and receive e-mails.

This reference guide is for members of the Surfin' Seniors Program who use the MailWonder application on the computers in the lounge. The skills required are: knowing how to use a computer mouse and keyboard. To brush up on your computer mouse and keyboard skills, there is a sign-up sheet posted by the computers.

Each toolbar button will be presented in a table along with a description of what it does, and an explanation of how to use it.

Figure 1 Toolbar for the MailWonder E-mail Application

Table 1 Toolbar Buttons, What they do, and How to Use Them

| Button and What it Does: | How to Use it: |
|---|---|
|  Create MailThis button opens a blank e-mail for you to compose a new message in. | 1. Click Create Mail.A blank e-mail appears.2. Type the name(s) of one (or more) recipients for your e-mail message on the TO line.3. Type a subject on the Subject line. (e.g. birthday wishes for Katie)4. Type your message in the body of the e-mail. |
|  ReplyThis button opens an e-mail that contains the quoted text from the e-mail message that you would like to reply to. The only recipient of your e-mail message will be the sender of the original e-mail. | 1. In your inbox, select the e-mail message that you would like to reply to.2. Click Reply.An e-mail appears with the name and subject lines already filled in based on the sender's information from the e-mail that you are replying to. The body of the e-mail contains the quoted text from the e-mail that you are replying to.3. Type your message in the body of the e-mail. |
|  Reply AllThis button opens an e-mail that contains the quoted text from the e-mail message that you would like to reply to. The recipients of your e-mail message will include all of the names on the TO and CC lines from the sender's original e-mail. | 1. In your inbox, select the e-mail message that you would like to reply to.2. Click Reply All.An e-mail appears with the TO, CC, and Subject lines already filled in based on the sender's information from the e-mail that you are replying to. The body of the e-mail contains the quoted text from the e-mail that you are replying to.CAUTION: By using Reply All instead of Reply, your e-mail message will be sent to all of the recipients on the TO and CC lines.*3. Type your message in the body of the e-mail. |
|  Forward | 1. In your inbox, select the e-mail message that you would like to forward.2. Click Forward. |

| Button and What it Does: | How to Use it: |
|---|---|
| This button opens an e-mail that contains the quoted text from the e-mail message that you would like to forward to (i.e. share with) someone else. The only recipient of your forwarded e-mail message will be the person whose name you type on the TO line. | An e-mail appears with a blank TO line and a Subject line filled in with the information from the e-mail that you are forwarding prefixed by FW. The body of the e-mail contains the quoted text from the e-mail that you are forwarding.3. Type a message in the body of the e-mail to tell your recipient what you are forwarding to them and why.NOTE: While it is not necessary to type a message in the body of the e-mail that you are forwarding to tell your recipient what you are forwarding to them and why, it is good e-mail etiquette to do so.* |
|  PrintThis button sends an e-mail that you've selected for printing to the printer. | 1. In your inbox, select the e-mail message that you would like to print.2. Click Print.The Print dialog appears and asks you to confirm that you want to print the selected e-mail.3. Click Yes.4. Go to the printer to collect your printed e-mail. |
|  DeleteThis button sends an e-mail that you've selected to delete (i.e. an e-mail that you no longer want to keep) to the recycling bin. | 1. In your inbox, select the e-mail message that you would like to delete.2. Click Delete.The Delete verification prompt appears and asks you to confirm that you want to delete the selected e-mail.CAUTION: Once an e-mail has been deleted, it goes to the Recycling Bin. This is not a place to store e-mail. All e-mails in the Recycling Bin are permanently deleted every 30 days.*3. Click Yes.The selected e-mail message is deleted from your inbox. |
|  Send/ReceiveThis button is dual-purpose. It both retrieves any new e-mail messages addressed to you, and sends e-mail messages that you are ready to send. | 1. Click Send/Receive.A progress message appears while your e-mail message is being sent and any new e-mail messages are being received. Any new e-mails appear in your inbox.2. Double-click the new e-mail message in your inbox that you would like to open.3. Read your new e-mail message. |
|  AddressesThis button opens your e-mail Address Book, which contains the names of all the people for whom you have e-mail addresses. You can use the Address Book to look up the name of a person that you would like to send an e-mail to. | 1. Click Addresses.The Address Book window appears.2. Select the name of a person that you would like to send an e-mail message to.If you prefer, type the first few letters of the name of the person that you want to send an e-mail message to.The Address Book entry for the name that you have selected is highlighted.The first Address Book entry that most closely matches the name that you have started to type is highlighted.NOTE: The more letters you type, the more easily your Address Book will find the correct entry for you.*3. Click OK.A blank e-mail appears with the name of the person that you selected from your Address Book on the TO line.4. Type a subject on the Subject line. (e.g. birthday wishes)5. Type your message in the body of the e-mail. |
|  Find | 1. Click Find.The Find dialog appears. |

| Button and What it Does: | How to Use it: |
|---|---|
| This button finds any e-mails that contain the search words that you specify. | 2. Type the word(s) that you want to search for in the Find field. (e.g. secret banana bread recipe)3. Click OK.A list of e-mails containing your search word(s) appears below the Find field.4. Double-click the e-mail message from the list that you would like to open.5. Read the e-mail message that you have found. |